Greetings from Bolivia,

As we reach the half way point of 2017, we decided that rather than share our typical newsletter we would instead like to write you a heartfelt thanks. These last several months have been quite busy for us, filled with both joys and hardships. We know at times you may feel like a prayer or donation on our behalf may not make much of a difference, but we can assure you that every act of kindness and provision is appreciated. In both the good and hard times, it gives us great strength, confidence, and peace to know that you continue to hold us in prayer and support us as we partner together in this work.

With Sincere Thanks,

Tim & Kallie Hutton
